To Whom This May Concern,

For almost 10 years, I have been Vice President for Student Affairs and Enrollment Management at Western New Mexico University (WNMU). Since WNMU is a small regional state school located in a rural isolated area, recruiting candidates for upper level administration and executive level positions can be faced with challenges.

In 2017, I was in search of a Director of Admissions. I advertised the position on several well-known hiring platforms yet still had two failed searches. Our Human Resources Director had experience working with Kaye/Bassman International Corporation and recommended I consult with them. After being connected with one of the Managing Partners, Mr. Trey Wright, and learning how the company could assist WNMU, I immediately decided to utilize the services. In less than a few months, I hired a Director of Admissions from a large pool of talented candidates.

Kaye/Bassman International Corporation is a client focused search firm. They offer services that are professional and they also provide their clients flexible options that are results driven. I personally feel, once you are client of Kay/Bassman International Corporation, you become part of their family. After hiring the Director of Admissions, I received periodic follow up calls to see how the new hire was progressing and I learned the candidate also was provided similar support.

With that, I highly recommend Kaye/Bassman International Corporation for your hiring search needs and have called on their services for other upper level administrative searches.

Sincerely,

Dr. Isaac Brundage
Vice President for Student Affairs and Enrollment Management
